1. As an international student, I need a tool to generate a well-structured SOP so that I can clearly present my academic background, research experience, and career goals in a way that meets U.S. application standards.
2. As a PhD applicant, I want the system to highlight my key research experiences so that my SOP emphasizes my strengths and aligns with my target programs.
3. As a student seeking recommendation letters, I want to provide my professors with structured LOR templates so that they can easily write strong, personalized letters that enhance my application.
4. As an international applicant, I want to refine and edit my SOP within the system so that I can continuously improve its clarity and coherence before submission.
5. As an international applicant with a non-traditional background, I want GradAid to help me identify relevant graduate programs in computer science that align with my transferable skills from medicine, so that I can broaden my career options and pursue a more lucrative field.
6. As an applicant with limited experience writing SOPs for US universities, I need GradAid to provide suggestions for structuring my narrative and highlighting my key strengths, so that I can create a compelling and persuasive statement that increases my chances of admission.
